

The Surprise

by Jolanda Garcia

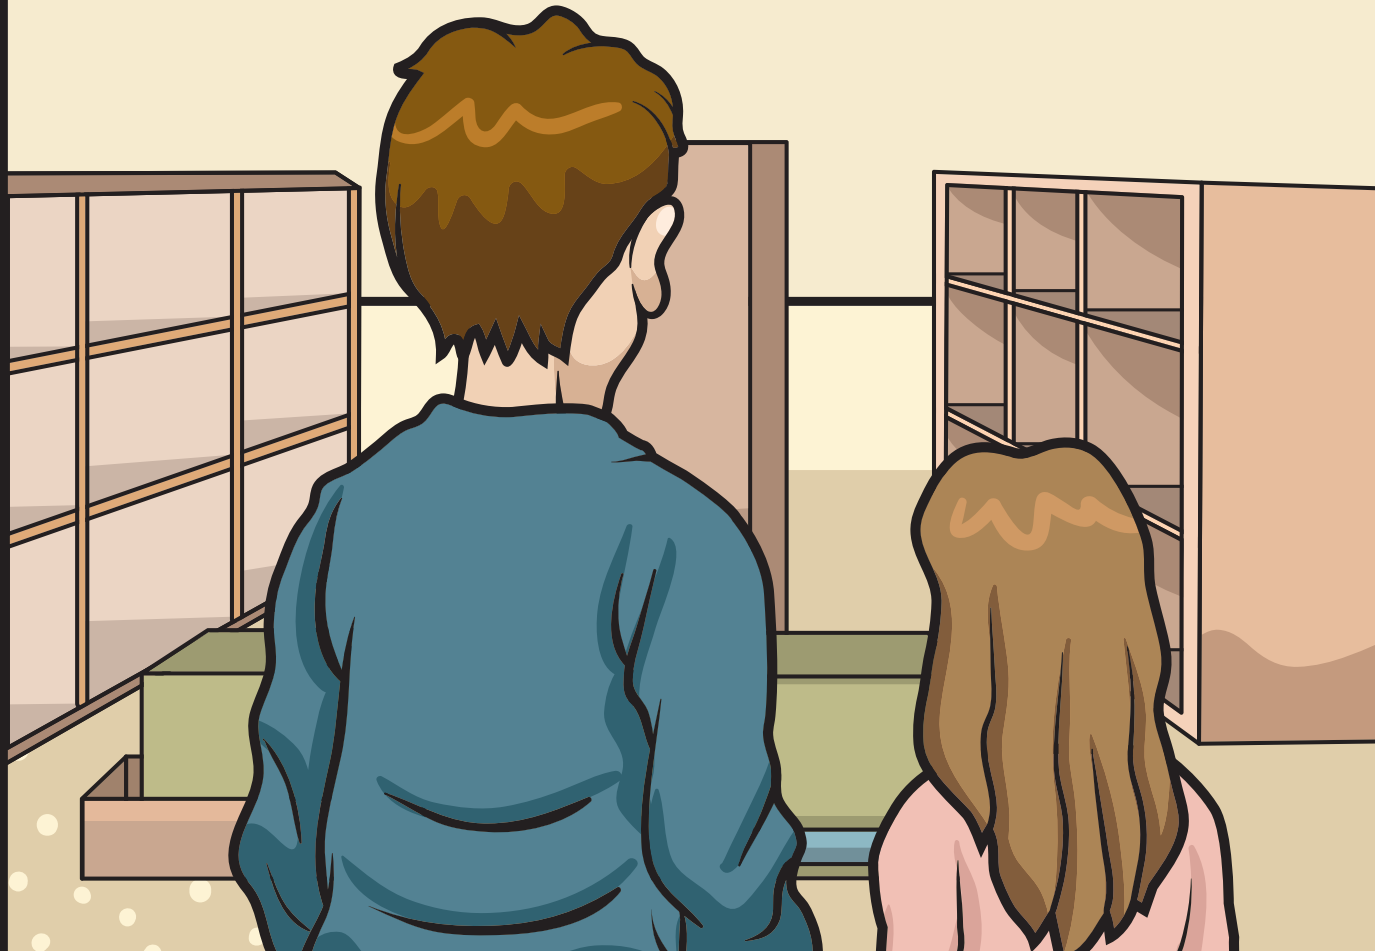

Meet Mary and her dad.

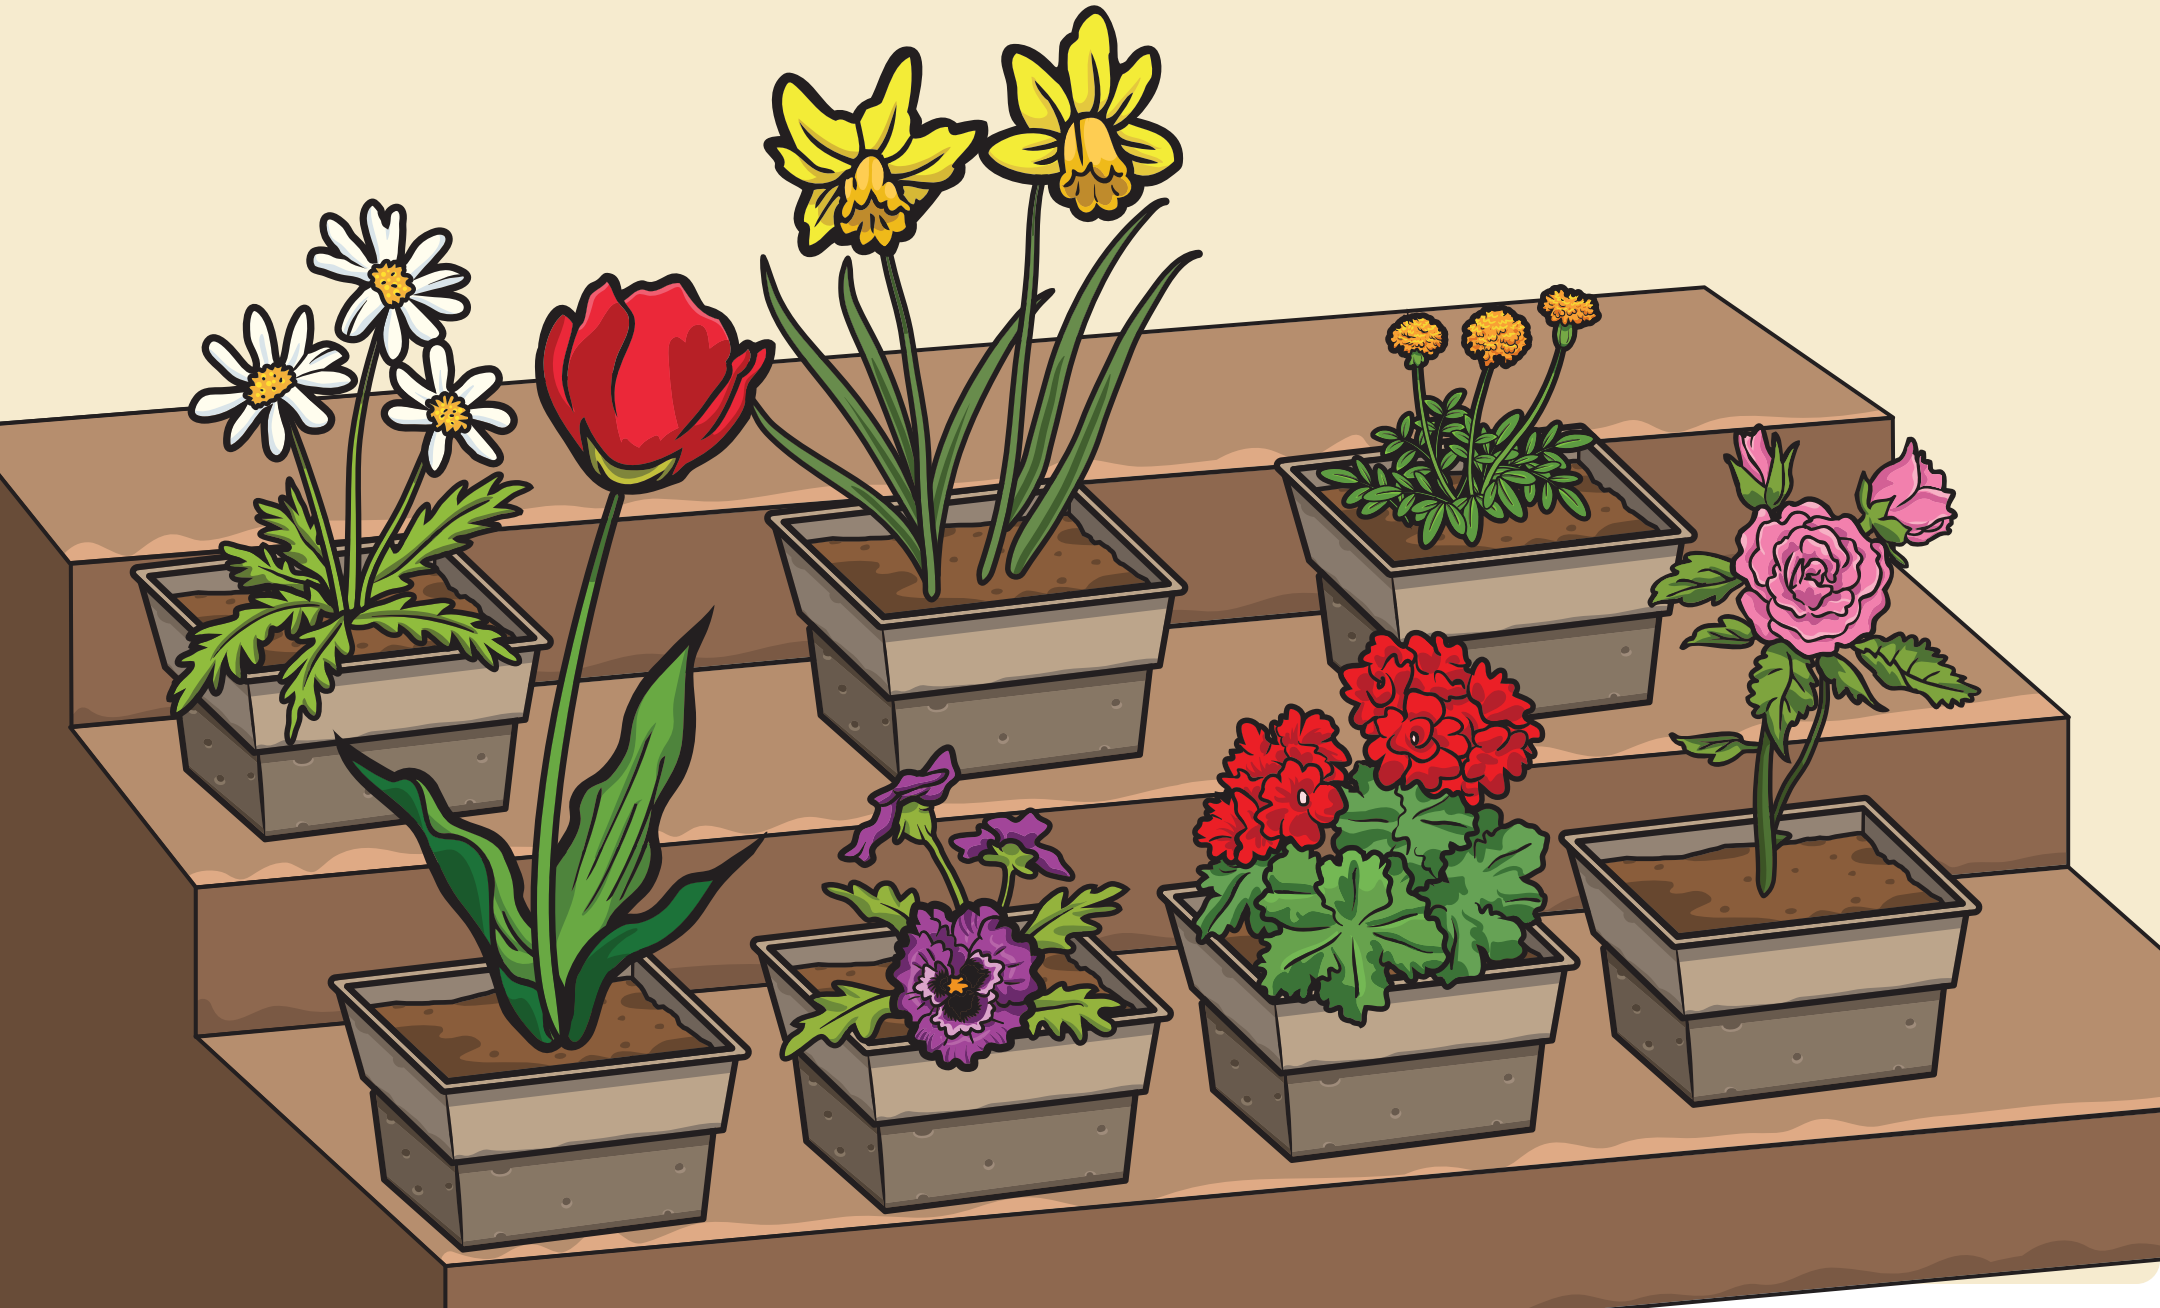

Today, they decided to visit the colorful grocery store.

Their first stop? The flower section, full of colorful flowers!

Mary's eyes sparkled as she reached for the fiery red flowers.

Meanwhile, her dad admired the sunny yellow flowers.

Together, they picked pretty purple flowers.

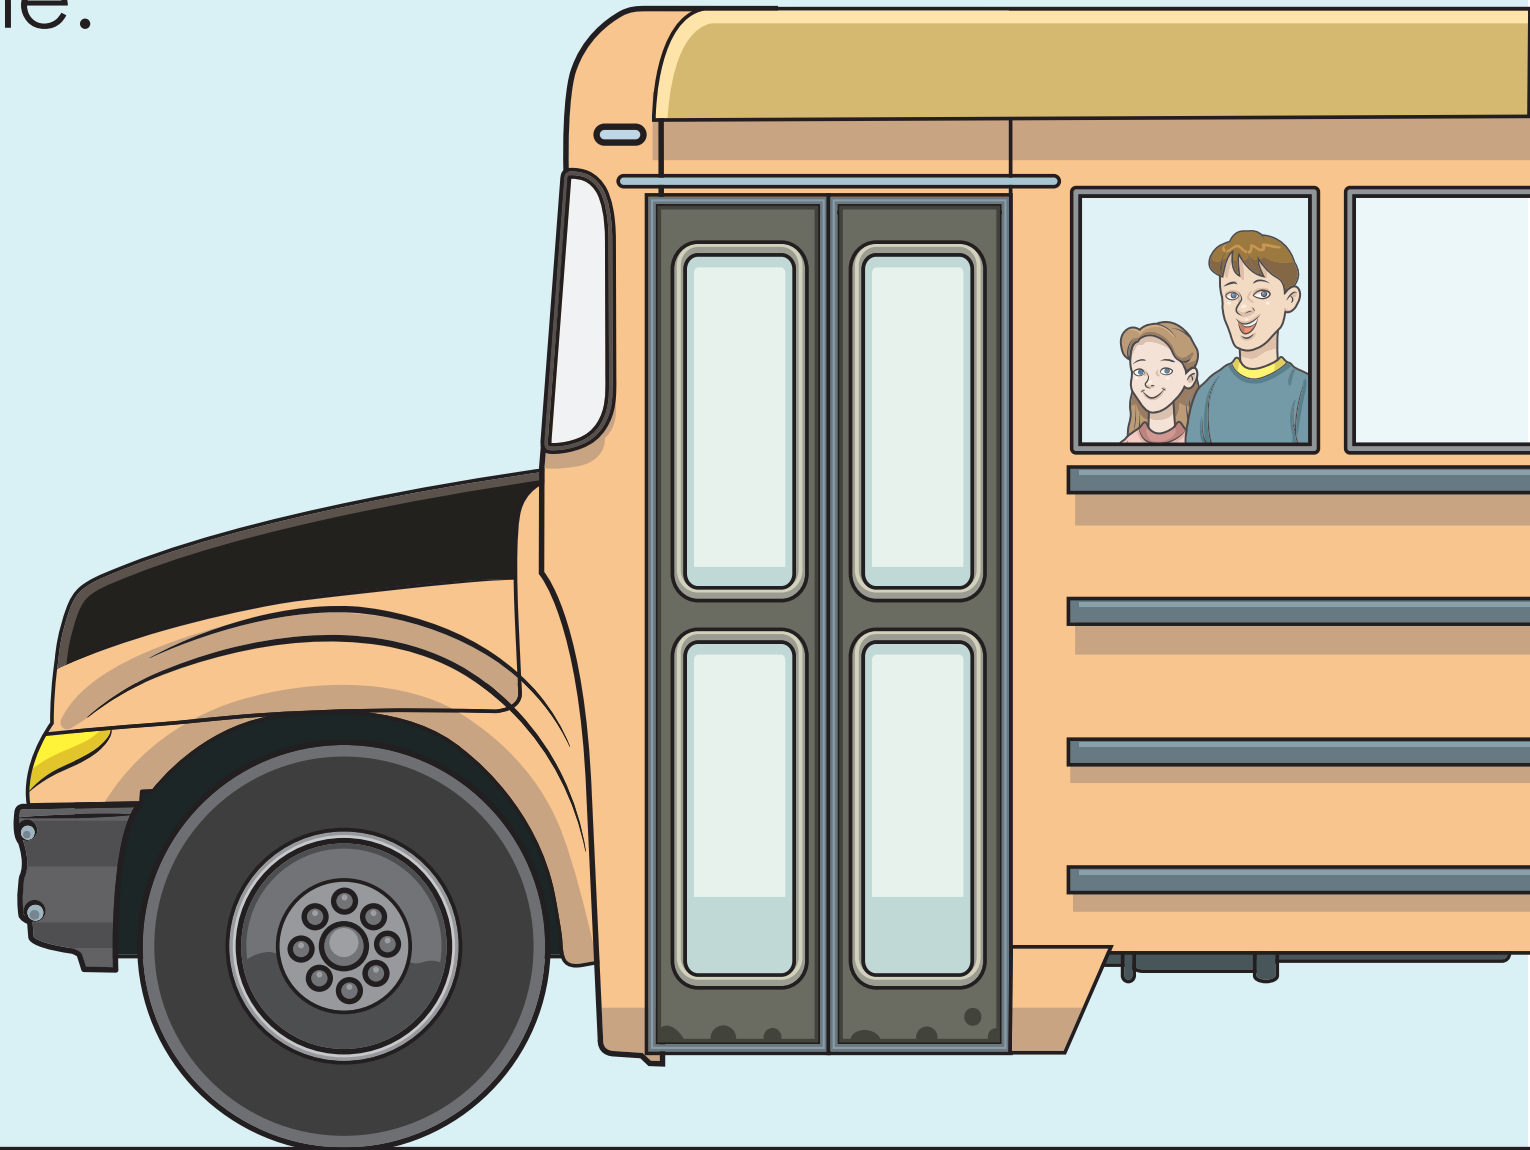

Next on their list? Soil for their new floral friends.

At the checkout counter, Mary and her dad paid for the flowers and soil, ready to take them home.

Patiently, they waited for the bus to take them home.

Back at home, Mary and her dad carefully placed a flower pot on a layer of newspaper.

Carefully, they planted each flower, creating a beautiful bouquet of colors.

Happy Mother's Day Mom!
